Auctioneers Note: The Tompkins have been avid collectors of antiques for many, many years and have put together a massive collection. Due to storage conditions, it was not possible to look into every box and view each item. We will not even know what all we have to sell, until it gets unpacked at the auction site, and we get it displayed. Due to these circumstances, a catalog is not available and we will be having a good old fashion “come and see it” auction! I guarantee this will be a collection of quality antique glassware that you will not see again. Make plans to attend! It would probably be wise to bring your own packing materials. Color pictures are available at www.gatlinauction.com Thanks, Mike and Becky
